A MALET LAMBERT TRANSITION WORKSHOP BY ENGAGING EDUCATION

ABOUT

The creative teams behind Marvel, DC and even The Beano had better watch their backs - there's a new comic crew on the scene; a lively bunch of year 6 students from Alderman Cogan Church of England Primary School.

Working with Malet Lambert, these students created a victorious superhero and developed the storyboard, design and production of a professional comic strip.

Their initial ideas, sketches and concepts were taken away and transformed by our illustrator, Tony, to result in the final collections within this comic adventure book.

Skills developed: teamwork, communication, creative writing, time management and all core literacy elements.
